

EARLY START ON FARMINGTON ROAD IS A POSSIBILITY

State Treasurer Kephart Sends Encouraging Word From Harrisburg.

WILL BEGIN AT THIS END

Contract for Three and a Half Miles From Connellsville City Limits Soon to Be Let, Is, Information; No Stone Is Being Left Unturned.

In telephone communication with State Treasurer H. M. Kephart at Harrisburg, yesterday afternoon, The Courier was informed that prospects were very for a portion of the Connellsville-Farmington road being built this year. Treasurer Kephart was in the highway commissioner's office in the interest of the road when he called and he authorized the statement that early action might be expected.

The first contract will be for three and a half miles of new road beginning at the Snyderstown limits of the city. That much will be finished this year. If nothing ensues to halt the program, for there will be no delay in advertising for bids and in letting the contract. With Mr. Kephart working at Harrisburg in the interests of the highway, it is possible it will get priority over some other less important developments in the road project next week.

News of what is transpiring in the road proposition is eagerly awaited by residents of Connellsville and the district through which the road will pass. The matter is in such shape, however, that the next moves must come from the state. The indications are that these will be made promptly.

CARROLL'S RETURN TO REFEREEHIP IS SOUGHT IN PETITIONS

Movement Launched in Uniontown Will Come Before U. S. Court in Pittsburgh Next Week.

Petitions are being prepared and will be presented next week to Judge Charles F. Orr of the United States District court in Pittsburgh, seeking the reinstatement of Attorney Joseph G. Carroll of Uniontown as referee in bankruptcy, in connection with the settlement of the estate of J. V. Thompson. Several weeks ago Mr. Carroll was removed and W. H. Blair of Pittsburgh was appointed referee. It is asserted that first news of the change came to Mr. Carroll through the columns of a newspaper and that he had no opportunity to make a defense.

The petitions are being signed by interests in Fayette, Greene, Washington and Somerset counties and in West Virginia. They will be presented some time next week by Attorneys R. M. Carroll and W. J. Johnson of Uniontown.

The naming of a Pittsburgh man was said to be for the reason that Pittsburgh is better located, geographically, for adjustment of cases such as the Thompson-Piedmont coal deal than Uniontown.

SHOPMEN'S VOTE SECRET

Result of Balloting on Wage Demands Is Not Made Known.

Railroad shopmen of Connellsville voted last night on the question of accepting or rejecting the proposal of President Wilson that their demands for wage increase be adjusted for the time on the basis of an increase of four cents an hour. What the result of the vote was the several crafts did not announce. It was said this morning by an official of one that it was secret and would not be made known. The results were telegraphed to Washington. The shopmen assembled in various parts of the city to cast their ballots. The voting began at 7 o'clock and was practically completed by 9 o'clock.

There are six crafts affiliated with the shopmen's federation here. They are the machinists, the boiler-makers and their helpers, the sheet metal workers, the electrical workers and the carmen.

While the result of the vote was not made known it was said there was strong sentiment evident among the men in favor of rejecting the proposal. On Thursday the national executive committee of the shopmen voted to accept the President's plan provided within 90 days the government can show results in the campaign for the reduction of the cost of living.

Ostensible Object Said to Be Relief of Forces of Admiral Kolchak.

By Associated Press.

PARIS, Thursday, Aug. 28.—A modern, well equipped German army of 40,000 men has assembled in Lithuania and is preparing to march into Russia under the pretense of endeavoring to reach and help Admiral Kolchak, according to Lithuanian sources. Word to this effect was brought to Paris by Chief Engineer Siebko of the Lithuanian railway system who declared the Germans talked freely of a coming understanding between Germany, Russia and Japan.

In describing the situation to the correspondent M. Siebko said the large German forces which had occupied Lithuanian soil, from which they have been several times ordered away by both the Lithuanian government and Marshal Pech were training themselves and preparing for a march through Russia. They call themselves "Kolchakists" and pretend that their immediate object is to reach and cooperate with the admiral's forces.

They are under the ostensible leadership of the Russian general Bergmann but the real commander, M. Siebko declares, is the German general von der Goltz. They control the railway lines in all the occupied territory. They number 37,500 Germans and 3,000 Russians, all wearing German uniforms. The Germans serving in this army call themselves volunteers, according to the engineer, and claim allegiance to the all-Russian government and pretend to be exempt from orders issued by Marshal Pech or the Inter-Allied council.

ELEVEN THOUSAND MINERS IN W. VA. TO GO ON STRIKE

Twenty-five Hundred Already Out Union Official Declares; Disorders Reported.

By Associated Press. CHARLESTON, W. Va., Aug. 30.—That 11,000 miners of the Guyan valley coal field will strike some time today for higher wages and recognition of a union was the prediction last night of C. F. Keeney, president of Division 17, United Mine Workers of America. He said there were 2,500 miners on strike already.

Reports of clashes between mine guards and striking miners in the Logan county coal fields were received by President Keeney late last night. A half dozen miners were injured in fighting at Rum creek and fights occurred at Island creek and among miners employed by the Monitor Coal company, he said.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Aug. 30.—Charleston coal operators in touch with the situation today denied anything so serious as a strike of 11,000 mines in Guyan valley or Logan district is about to occur and they report that with the exception of two small mines, which are shut down because 500 men are out, everything is normal. The two mines affected are the Yuma and Monitor.

TRI-STATE OPERATORS GIVEN INCREASE OF 30 PER CENT IN WAGES

Twenty Per Cent Advance Is Effective at Once, Remainder on November 1.

A wage increase of 30 per cent, of which 20 per cent becomes effective at once and 10 per cent November 1, was granted all operators of the exchanges of the Tri-State Telephone company this afternoon. Announcement was made soon after the 14 operators in the Chattanooga exchange had gone on strike. The strike was not so much for the increase, it was explained later, as to bring about the discharge of Miss Bille Barth, a New Jersey girl who has been chief operator and toward whom the operators had developed a dislike. They won their point. Miss Barth was replaced by Miss Inez Stout.

The operators demanded an increase of 10 per cent. At the time the Uniontown force went on strike, noon, the directors of the company were in session considering their demands.

The strike did not affect any other part of the country, save in cutting off the service through the Uniontown office.

OHIO PYLE MAY BECOME SITE OF ORPHANAGE FOR 200 ITALIAN CHILDREN

Committee Named to Investigate Offer of P. Bufano of Free Land.

By Associated Press.

A beautiful location on the mountainside a short distance from Ohio Pyle may become the site of an orphanage for the order of the Sons of Italy to erect. A committee has been named to investigate the offer made by Pasquale Bufano, well-known local banker, to donate 50 acres for the purpose. The tender was made at the state convention of the order this week at Scranton at which Mr. Bufano was in attendance.

A fund of $100,000 has already been subscribed toward the establishment of an orphanage. What the investment will be has not been determined. It is said the plan is to provide at the start for the care of 200 children of deceased members of the order. The offer of Mr. Bufano is the first of the kind. No strings are attached to the tender. The necessary land is to be given outright.

The proposed site is a part of a tract of 425 acres owned by Mr. Bufano. It is all timbered, but lumbermen are now engaged in cutting the timber, which was sold some time ago. The 50 acres Mr. Bufano has picked out as a site for the proposed orphanage is situated a mile and a half west of Ohio Pyle at the head of Cucumber run. Its location is an ideal one, it is said. The natural beauty of the place is inviting, there is ample land suitable for cultivation while there is an abundance of pure mountain water, with gravelly floor. Abundance of building stone is on the ground. From almost every standpoint it is held that the location is considered ideal.

ROBIN COOPER, TRIED FOR KILLING SENATOR CARMACK, IS SLAIN

Body of Nashville Lawyer, Missing 10 Days, Found in Creek Bed Near His Home.

By Associated Press. NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 29.—Near a body of water and other marks of violence the body of Robin J. Cooper, Nashville lawyer, who, after a sensational trial, was acquitted of the murder of former United States Senator Edward W. Carmack in 1908, was found today in a creek near his home. Cooper had been missing since Thursday and his body was recovered about 130 yards from a bridge where his deserted blood-spattered car was found early this morning.

An examination showed that Cooper had been shot through the head. There also was a bruise on the forehead and the condition of the clothing indicated the body had been dragged for some distance over the rocks in the creek. W. C. Farmer, a neighbor of Mr. Cooper, told the police that Mr. Cooper drove $10,000 from a local bank several days ago and it is supposed the murderer was aware of this fact, enticed him from home under the supposition that he would have a considerable sum on his person.

WILSON HEARS GOMPERS AS TO LABOR'S VIEWS

Head of American Federation Asks Intervention to Prevent Strike.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—After two days of conferences with other officials of the American Federation of Labor, President Samuel Gompers, who returned from Europe this week, rather unexpectedly, discussed the disturbed labor situation over the country, with President Wilson yesterday, at the White House.

No announcement was made on behalf of the President, and Mr. Gompers and the union officials who accompanied him, including representatives of the steel workers, steadfastly refused to discuss what had transpired.

It is known, however, that the President was asked to intervene in the dispute between the steel workers and the United States Steel Corporation, over wages, hours, working conditions and the right of collective bargaining.

Before going to the White House, the committee of steel workers made public a telegram to the council at Gary, Ind., in which they charged that the steel corporation was discharging union men at a number of the plants in an effort to force the strike issue before the President could act. The men were urged not to strike until all efforts at a peaceful settlement had been made.

The federation's executive committee held two sessions during the day. The utmost secrecy was maintained, but it was understood that a number of labor disturbances over the country were discussed, with particular attention given the situation as it affects railroads and steel workers.

Some officials saw in the message to the railroad shopmen yesterday and to the steel workers a disposition on the part of the labor leaders to follow the suggestion of President Wilson that the matter of wages and working conditions be held in abeyance until government agencies had had time to carry out their program looking to a reduction of living costs.

While the federation chiefs were meeting with the President the labor situation was discussed at the capital. Senator Forrester (Republican) of Washington urged speedy action on his resolution asking the President to call a conference between representatives of capital and labor. Chairman Kenyon of the Senate labor committee said the House and Senate committees planned joint action.

The South Connellsville memorial committee is still short of funds for the financing of the memorial for the service men and women that has been erected on the high school grounds, the dedication of which is being held up until the expense has been fully met. If this is paid promptly the committee will be in position to proceed with the arrangements for the dedication.

At a meeting of the volunteer firemen last evening a proposal to hold another festival was discussed but it was decided not to resort to this until an effort has been made to collect the unpaid pledges.

STATE AND FEDERAL AUTHORITIES TO JOIN IN H. C. L. FIGHT

Food Administration to Revive "Fair Price" Committee; State May Establish Food Markets.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—The committee of governors, of which Governor Sprout is a member, appointed at the conference of governors in Denver last week to confer with the Washington authorities in reference to the reduction of living costs, met Attorney General Palmer yesterday and later conferred with President Wilson. The outcome of the conference was a complete understanding that there is to be cooperation of state and federal authorities in dealing with the situation.

The Food Administration's activities will be resumed, under the direction of Howard Hoar, late controller in Pennsylvania. "Fair price" committees will be named and the states will give support to all efforts to make these prices effective. The state may authorize the establishment of markets in order to bring down food prices. The work of the state in these lines will be under the direction of the Pennsylvania Council of National Defense and Committee of Public Safety, which is composed of Lieutenant Governor Beileman, Auditor General Snyder, State Treasurer Kephart and Adjutant General Beary.

Governor Sprout predicted that the prices of food in Pennsylvania would begin to decline within three weeks. Following the conference Governor Sprout stated that the following facts had been made clear as a result of the meeting:

"All people and organizations should immediately cooperate for the purpose of increased production of the necessities of life.

"Economy in consumption and care in purchasing are equally important to production.

"Every agency of the federal and state governments should cooperate to prevent profiteering. In this connection the attorney general has assured us that he will pursue to the limit, under existing and proposed laws, all profiteering.

"The suggestion of the attorney general for the appointment in all states, upon appointment by the governors, was 'indorsed.'

RAILROADS PREPARE FOR HEAVY TRAFFIC DURING LABOR DAY

Patrons Urged to Make Arrangements in Advance, Wherever Possible.

Walker D. Hines, Director General of Railroads, today authorized the following statement issued from Washington:

In view of the extraordinary heavy travel anticipated over Labor Day, it is urged that the public, if desiring to travel on the railroads over Labor Day make traveling arrangements including the purchase of railroad and sleeping car tickets, as far in advance as possible so as to avoid adding to the congestion which usually occurs at this period.

"As far as possible everything that can properly be done has been done to care for the expected heavy travel over Labor Day. Several weeks ago our regional directors were asked to give their special consideration to this matter and each of them has answered that he has issued the necessary instructions and has taken steps to provide as much equipment as possible to adequately care for the travel as far as its volume can be anticipated.

"The arrival, within the next two weeks, of the First and Third Army Divisions from France will require a large amount of cars and there is also still a very heavy movement of discharged soldiers from camps to their homes, which takes up a great deal of space in passenger equipment, but all equipment that the troop movement section can possibly spare has been assigned to the Labor Day traffic.

"Arrangements have also been made to supply extra baggagemen at all large centers and other points where congestion might occur, also extra ticket forces have been arranged.

MAYOR GOING TO SHORE

Has Many Years Ahead If He Goes Through Next Few Months, He Is Told.

After he leaves Mercy hospital, which may be next week, Mayor John Duggan plans to make a brief trip to his home here and then go to the seashore for an extended stay.

The mayor's physicians have advised him, it is said, that his ultimate recovery depends on the care he is given in the next three months and that should he get through that period safely and gain in health and strength there is no reason why he should not live for 15 to 20 years longer, despite the fact that when he left Conneltsville for the hospital the belief was that his career was approaching the end.

Many of our graduates have gone direct from school to positions paying more than the above, and the business men who employ them say they are worth it and more. SATURDAY EVENING, AUG. 30, 1913.

PRODIGALITY MUST STOP.

The discovery by the director of the savings division of the Treasury Department, that "a veritable orgy of extravagant buying is going on," is not new for it is a tendency which has been developing ever since people began to receive the extraordinary wages paid at munition plants and other establishments during the rush period of our war preparation. So long as there were more or less periodic demands upon all citizens for purchase of Liberty Bonds, contributions to the Red Cross, and other welfare agencies and the like, there was,
to some extent, a limitation to buying, although there was a prodigality in expenditures far beyond that of any previous period in the lives of most people.But now, as the Treasury Department official notes, "the reaction from the careful use of money during war time is widespread and disturbing.
Retailers are securing goods from jobbers without arguing about prices
if they can only be assured of immediate delivery. They know their customers will scramble for the goods, regardless of cost. Thus, with an abnormal demand and a limited output, nothing else can be expected than high prices. It is a natural, though deplorable, consequence that profits are abundant."While the Department of Justice, if it displays the zeal the announcements of its chief have lead us to believe will be exercised, can do much to stop the reprehensible activities of the profiteers and hoarders, and Congress may in some measure aid through the enactment of laws providing adequate penalties, which it has already done, the people themselves must do something. Among all classes there must be, as the Treasury official suggests, "a return to the policy of careful buying and regular saving if they wish to help the situation." More than that, and particularly among those who sustain the relation of employer and employee, the moral fiber of men must also operate and conscience be active in controlling their relation with each other and the public.A campaign with the slogan, "Be reasonable and be just," should be adopted in every form of occupation, and by those producers and dealers who have been indifferent to the situation so long as they could market their commodities at constantly advancing figures and who have been getting all they could while "the getting is good." At the same time another campaign with the slogan,
"Work and save," should be entered upon with vigor and determination by those who have been drawn away from old habits of industry, prudence and thrift and enticed into a prodigality of time wasting and unnecessary expenditure.

TIME TO FEED AMERICA FIRST.

The whole problem of affecting a reduction in the cost of living is up to the Democratic administration.
Every instrument and means President Wilson has declared is necessary to combat the evil has been placed in his hands. Congress has passed all the laws he said were essential to curb the activities of the food profiteers and no stint has been placed upon the amount of public money made available for this purpose."The Republican majority in both branches of Congress," says the Greensburg Tribune, "has made it the policy of their party to aid in every possible way to reduce the burdensome cost of living and to secure the punishment of the profiteers as the attorney general insists he will do,
but many Republicans and Democrats alike are without hope of feeding America first in view of the very general practice of sending immense quantities of food overseas."Exports of food and food commodities during the last twelve months, according to official figures, increased to such an extent that during the week ended June 30 there was a gain of 262 per cent in the number of cars of export freight received at North Atlantic ports over the corresponding week of 1912.Americans have no desire to withhold food from any of the peoples of Europe who are in distress because of shortage in their own products or supplies but they have very proper objection to furnishing the profiteers across the water opportunities for profitable speculation while prices here are forced to an unreasonable level through unprecedented exports.
It is about time to give some thought to feeding America first.Speaking of the "orgy of extravagant expenditure," how about the example set by the Democratic adminis-

WITH THE YOUNGSTERS.

I don't know how to say it, but if such a thing could be,I'd always like to have a pack of youngsters trailing me.I'd like to take them roaming through the woods and by the streams,And spend my life in painting little people's fairy dreams.For a man is never selfish, never tempted much to wrong.No matter where he travels when he's got a child along.I dread the time that's coming when our babes will all be grown.And the boyhood and the girlhood from beneath our roof has flown.What will take the place of laughter that is ours to have today?Who will come to this old edger with the glad request to play?When there are no glad surprises for the eyes of youth to view?And no children needing counsel, what, I wonder, shall I do?I like to be with youngsters, like to have them in a band.And explain in language simple things that they don't understand.There's more joy in childish laughter than in all the world's wisdom which the graybeards have to teach.So I've come to this conclusion that if such a thing can beI always want to have a pack of youngsters trailing me.MEYERSDALE, Aug. 30.—Next

MISS MARIE TIFFANY, GRAND OPERA SINGER, TO GIVE CONCERT HERE

Will Appear in High School Auditorium, Thursday Evening, Sept. 4.
Music lovers are evidencing much interest in the appearance of Miss Marie Tiffany, famous soprano, in concert at the high school auditorium next Thursday night, September 4. She will be assisted by what is termed "the photograph with a soul." Tickets may be secured of the Wright-Metzler company.

Miss Tiffany is a member of the Metropolitan Opera company, one of the all too few American opera singers. She joined the Metropolitan company very suddenly, too. It seems that in 1916 Miss Tiffany came to New York from her home in Los Angeles. She only came to visit, but while there she concluded to try her hand, or rather her voice, in opera. So she gave an informal audition for Mr. Gatti-Casazza, the manager, and he was so delighted that he engaged her on the spot. She has been with the Metropolitan since that time.

Before the world war, Miss Tiffany sang in the American church in Paris. She also made appearances in concerts at Chateaux and at the Salle du Foyer. Then she sang in opera with the Campagne Internationale Lyrique.

Although Miss Tiffany belongs to that highbrow set of singers who are real opera stars, she includes in her programs all kinds of songs, from the most classic to the ultra-modern. She has a very wide repertoire, indeed. And not the least of her interesting accomplishments is the Scandinavian songs in which she specializes. She sings these in the original Norwegian, and she is particularly partial to the works of Edward Grieg.

Miss Tiffany's concert in Conneltsville will be an unexpected pleasure to her many devoted admirers in this city. Admission will be by invitation.

Dawson.

DAWSON, Aug. 28.—Mrs. A. J. Manning who has been spending the past two weeks at Kittinging has returned home.

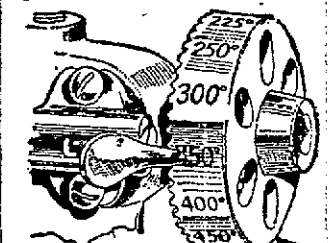

Carl Boyd who has been serving in the army over seas has returned to his home in Dickerson Run. The buildings at the Oglevee-McClure Lumber company have been newly painted. They are all painted red and trimmed in white, and present a neat appearance.

At the Y. M. C. A. grounds this evening the Y. M. C. A. and Collinsburg teams will clash. Good crowds attend the games and the fans are being given good baseball.

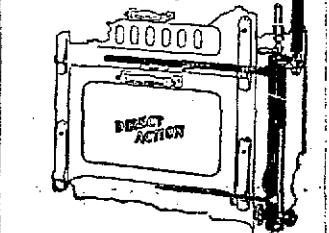

The Boy Scouts wish to thank the public through the columns of The Courier for the liberal patronage at their festival on Tuesday evening. They cleared a neat sum which will be used for the purpose of buying tents for the company.

Mrs. John Landymore and daughter, Oliver, are spending the day in West Newton.

Big Lot of Hay Fever Jokes

But Kentucky Men Say—"People Who Belong to Hay Fever Colony are Kidding Themselves."

Wouldn't Be Any Rose or Hay Fever if Simple Home Remedy Was Given a Chance.

"Yes, there's a real NINETY-NINE per cent effective remedy for hay or rose fever," insists a druggist in a prosperous Kentucky city. "But I don't expect anyone to believe me, because the treatment is so easy and the cost not worth mentioning."

The annual crop of hay-fever jokes would be mighty scarce if people would get an ounce of Mentholtized Arcline and by just adding water that has been boiled make a pint of liquid that will prove a real help to all who suffer.

"Many of my hay-fever friends tell me that by starting to gargle and snuff or spray the nostrils a few times a day the expected severe attack often fails to appear and in cases where it does show up is very mild and does not annoy."

"The Better Class of Pharmacists" who dispense Mentholtized Arcline say it will greatly modify any attack even when taken three or four days after hostilities begin.

Go to a real live druggist when you get ready to make a pint.

7 A DAY FOR 7 DAYS

If Your Nerves Are Shaky Because of Over-Indulgence in Tobacco or Alcohol or by Excess of Any Kind, Bio-Ferol is What You Need Right Away.

Don't grow old before your time, don't let nervousness wreck your happiness or chances in life. The man with strong, steady nerves is full of vigor, energy, ambition and confidence. You can have nerves of steel, firm step, new courage and keen mind by putting your blood and nerves in first-class shape with mighty Bio-Ferol, a new discovery, inexpensive and efficient.

Men and women who get up so tired in the morning that they have to drag themselves to their daily labor will in just a few days arise with clear mind, definite purpose and loads of ambition. All you have to do is to take two Bio-Ferol tablets after each meal and one at bedtime—a day for 7 days—then reduce to one after each meal until all are gone.

Then if your energy and endurance haven't doubled, if your mind isn't keener and eyes brighter, if you don't feel twice as ambitious as before, any druggist anywhere will return the purchase price—gladly and freely.

Bio-Ferol is without doubt the grandest remedy for nervous, run-down, weak, anaemic men and women ever offered and is not at all expensive. All druggists in this city and vicinity have a supply on hand—sell many packages.

OPEN-AIR ARENA IS IN SHAPE FOR TONIGHT'S BOUTS

Space in Rear of Paramount Theatre Lighted and Regulation Ring Built.

FIGHTERS IN GREAT FORM

Eddie Winter on Edge for Johnny McCoy, While Johnny Kerston is Primed to Meet Billy Carter; Silgo Leads in the Preliminary.

The big open air arena in the rear of the Paramount theatre on Pittsburgh street, from the Pennsylvania depot to Apple street, is being put in shape today. The sound of the hammer and saw is music to the ears of the fight fans of this vicinity. A regulation ring, 24x24 feet, is being erected, the electrician is arranging his lights—a big cluster directly over the center of the ring—and every thing will be in tip top shape for tonight's bouts before the fans gather.

Pittsburg fans will have nothing on the card arranged. The matchmaker was not after beauty or fancy names when he matched the four sets of boxers who will appear. He has arranged a card full of fight, from the opening bout to the final star-bout. The fans are hungry for a good scrappy fight, and their appetites will be appeased with the program.

The first bout of four rounds brings together "Howdy" Collins and Fred Westwood, light heavyweights of Silgo mill—much discussion has been going on regarding the merits of these two boys, so it will be settled once for all tonight.

The semi-final of six rounds brings together two old rivals, Terrell-Duncan of Uniontown and "Fad" Haight of Scottsdale. Each declares he intends to score by the K. O. route.

The first star bout of the double wind-up features one of the most popular and best liked fighters in the country, Eddie Winter, who resided here for some time. He meets Jimmy McCoy, the A. E. F. champion for 10 rounds.

At-eyes will be set on the final star bout, also for 10 rounds, which brings together Billy Carter, whose reputation as a clever ring man is growing by leaps and bounds, and Johnny Kerston, the pocket edition of Jack Dempsey, from McKeesport. Kerston has a lot of confidence in his ability to stop Carter and his many followers are also of the same opinion, but in Carter he is meeting one of the most aggressive and cleverest boxers of his caliber. Carter has rounded into fine condition for this bout and will show the fans what a coming champion looks like.

The "Johnny Doubtful ones," who said the promoters could not secure a permit for the show to take place should step around and take a look at the busy scene.

"Every effort has been extended to make this show a decided success, and if there are any disgruntled fans who can say they did not get value received they will be promptly handed their admission back," the management states. The first bout starts at 8:30 P. M.

A Romance of the Blackhawk War

The insinuating sneer on Kirby's lips changed into the semblance of a smile. Slowly, deliberately, never once glancing down at the face of his cards, he turned them up one by one with his white fingers, his challenging eyes on the judge; but the others saw what was revealed—a ten-spot, a knave, a queen, a king and an ace. "A straight flush!" someone yelled excitedly. "D—d if I ever saw one before!"

For an instant Beaucaire never moved, never uttered a sound. He seemed to doubt the evidence of his own eyes, and to have lost the power of speech. Then from nerveless hands his own cards fell face downward, still unrevealed upon the table. The next moment he was on his feet, the chair in which he had been seated being crushed behind him on the deck. "You thief!" he roared. "You dirty, low-down thief! I held four aces—where did you get the fifth one?" Kirby did not so much as move, nor betray even by a change of expression his sense of the situation. Perhaps he anticipated just such an explosion and was fully prepared to meet it. One hand still rested easily on the table, the other remaining hidden.

"So you claim to have held four aces," he said coldly. "Where are they?" McAfee swept the discarded hand face upward and the crowd bent forward to look at four aces and a king. "That was the judge's hand," he declared soberly. "I saw it myself before he called you, and told him to stay."

Kirby laughed—an ugly laugh showing his white teeth. "The k—l you did? Thought you knew a good poker hand, I reckon. Well, you see I knew a better one, and it strikes me I am the one to ask questions," he sneered. "Look here, you men! I held one ace from the shuffle. Now what I want to know is where Beaucaire ever got his four? Pleasant little trick of you two—only this time it failed to work."

Beucaire uttered one mad oath, and I endeavored to grasp him but missed my clutch. The force of his lurching body as he sprang forward upturned the table, the stakes jangling to the deck, but Kirby reached his feet in time to avoid the shock. His hand, which had been hidden, shot out and, doubly, the fingers grasping a revolver, but he did not fire. Before the judge had gone half the distance he stopped, reeled suddenly, clutching at his throat, and plunged sideways. His body struck the upturned table, but McAfee and I grasped him, lowering the stricken man gently to the floor.

CHAPTER IV.

Kirby Shows His Hand.
That scene, with all its surroundings, remains indelibly impressed upon my memory. It will never fade while I live. The long, narrow, dingy cabin of the little warrior, its forward end unlighted and in a shadow, the single swinging lamp, suspended to a blackened beam above where the table had stood, barely revealing through its smoky chimney the after portion showing a row of stateroom doors on either side, some standing ajar, and that crowd of excited men surging about the fallen body of Judge Beaucaire, unable as yet to fully realize the exact nature of what had occurred, but conscious of impending tragedy. The overturned table and chairs, the motionless body of the judge, with Kirby standing erect just beyond, his face as clear-cut under the glare of light as a cameo, the revolver yet glistening in his extended hand, all composed a picture not easily forgotten. Still this impression was only that of a brief instant. With the next I was upon my knees, lifting the fallen head, and seeking eagerly to discern some lingering evidence of life in the inert body. There was none, not so much as the faint flutter of a pulse or suggestion of a heart throb. The man was already dead before he fell, dead before he struck the overturned table. "Judge Beaucaire is dead," I announced gravely. "Nothing more can be done for him now."

The Revolver Yet Glistening in His Extended Hand.

The pressing circle of men hemming as I fell back silently, reverently, the sound of their voices sinking into a subdued murmur. As I stood there, almost unconscious of their presence, still staring down at that upturned face, now appearing manly and patrician in the strange dignity of the death
